

MAGNET AXIOM EXAMINATIONS (AX200)

4-Day Training Course

Get In-Depth Magnet AXIOM Training with Magnet Forensics

Magnet Forensics is bringing their AX200 — AXIOM Examinations course to the Durham Regional Police Service on September 18-21.

AX200 is an intermediate-level course designed for participants who are familiar with the principles of digital forensics and seeking a deeper understanding of Magnet AXIOM for their investigations.

Participants will leave with the knowledge and skills they need to: acquire smartphone, computer, removable media and other images; analyze the artifacts, file system and registry data using multiple views; learn artifact link-analysis, verification workflows; and share their findings quickly and easily.
